Brett Eisenlohr

Brett has been an Avon resident since 1982, at which time he started his career working at the Avon Police Department. He retired in 2007 at the rank of Sergeant. A proud veteran of the U.S.

Army, where he served as a Military Police Paratrooper/Recondo, Brett's adult life is centered around service. He served for five years as a volunteer firefighter in his home town and has also served as a member of the Board of Directors for People's Action for Clean Energy (PACE), Avon Inland Wetlands Commission, Avon's Clean Energy Commission (ACEC), Chairman of Avon's Health and Safety, and was elected to the Avon Board of Finance in 2008.

Currently Brett works for the State of Connecticut, Department of Energy and Environmental Protection as an Environmental Conservation Officer and he is sole proprietor of a Real Estate Investment and Property Management business.

Brett has dedicated over 34 years to public service and is committed and honored to continue his service to the best interest of the citizens of Avon. "There's no better investment than thriving to improve the overall quality of life in our community"

Brian Stoll

Brian and his family moved to Avon in 1998 after spending most of his adult life in Massachusetts. He grew up attending public schools in the Detroit suburbs, and has a BS in Mathematics from Stanford University, where he also went through a Masters in Education program. After a number of years at The Hartford, he currently works for Towers Watson as a consulting actuary to property casualty insurance companies, supporting their efforts to improve growth and profitability.

Brian Stoll

Brian and his wife Robin have been active supporters of the Avon schools and community in numerous capacities, and both are former secondary school teachers. Brian also coached youth soccer in Avon for many years. They have four daughters - Mary Margaret, Meghan and Katherine attending Avon High School and Brigid attending Thompson Brook School.

Brian is interested in serving on the Board of Finance and
